event presentation

At Design Brief presenting spaces in their finest possible light is one of the things we do best. If you have a corporate event that demands you leave a lasting impression on your clients, or if you just want to create a memorable experience for family and/or friends contact us.

One of our design team will meet with you to discuss the look and feel you wish to achieve. We use our experience and expertise in combining colours, forms, furnishings, accessories, lighting and scent to create an inspiring interior that will enhance the overall feel of the event.

This full service includes initial concept meetings, design recommendations, and supply, installation and collection of items. Alternatively you may wish to consult with us about one specific aspect of your event presentation. Fees are based on the scope of the project, and no aspect of your event is considered too small to discuss. We are also happy to liaise with other people involved in the event preparation including photographers, coordinators and event planners.
